The second half of the academic session witnessed unprecedented and unforeseeable pandemic situations. The college adapted to the changing situations competently. Swiftly moving to online methods of teaching and learning is one of the biggest accomplishments of this session. Online classes started for the students enrolled in PG courses. Webinars, workshops and online talks were organized by various departments of the college.

International Webinar on Relevance of Yoga in Present World Crisis was organized by the college on the occasion of International Yoga day to mark the importance of Yoga and its remedial role in the times of crisis.

The start of Ph.D. course in the department of Sanskrit and enrolment of 4 candidates is another distinctive achievement for the college.

At the end of the session the college bid farewell to the senior most and beloved faculty member and Vice Principal Dr. Ratna Bhattacharya on her superannuation. Mr. Chandan Kumar Sinha, posted as routine clerk retired from the college after serving the institution for a long time paying his valuable services.

The college is constantly and tirelessly trying to shape the students according to the need of time and space, in this regard various workshops and lectures were organized for both students and faculty members to adapt to the changing times. The College has taken a project to switch to a new website and is trying to acquire a new Portal for online learning.
